

REGULATIONS

Part 2 – Questions

Section 5

1. What does the term “solicit” mean?
2. You have a great tip for a horse in the race on Saturday. Can you advertise this sure win over amateur radio?
3. In normal operations, can an amateur transmit outside the stipulated bands? Why?
4. Can a licensee transmit messages of a general nature on behalf of a third party to an amateur station, including an amateur station in a foreign country.

Section 6

5. What is the purpose of an amateur radio station?

Section 7

6. What are the three things not permitted on the amateur radio bands?

Section 7A

7. Your station is proved to be transmitting spurious signals and interfering with the public. What should you as the operator of that station now do?

Section 8

8. What are the three days of the year, an operator may vary their call sign?
9. During a conversation on air, how often should the operators declare their call signs?
10. How often should all the call signs of a group communications be declared?
11. Should your transmissions be intelligible to other operators?
12. There are three instances where an operator can code or encrypt their signals so others may not intercept. What are these three instances?
13. If you record a transmission from a station and wish to retransmit that transmission, what should you do?
14. What type of amateur station cannot change its call sign for these three days?

Section 8A

15. Can you use a repeater that will transmit outside your licensed frequencies? Why?

Section 9

16. There are five instances where an amateur station does not have to be manned to operate.

What are the five?

17. What are the two conditions for an unmanned station?

Section 10

18. You pack up the caravan and head off round Australia. How long can you operate your radios away from home before you need to notify the ACMA?

Section 11A

19. What does, "Secure the station when not in use." Mean?

20. Define an Appropriately licensed person.

Section 11B

21. If your station is connected to the public telecommunications network, what should you tell the users of this connection?

22. Can you listen in on any communications through the public telecommunications network?

